J. S. WILLIAMS, D7 Chestout st., St. Louis. WILLIAM HOBEITERLE, Mound City, Mo. Ground Wanes, Porest City, Mo.

John E. Groomes. It is currently reported that JOHN E. GROOMES, who escaped from our county fail on the 28th of June last, was drowned in the Des Moines River, a short time since PATH COLCLION

B. F. Porran has just received a large and complete, assortment of dry goods, groceries, hardware, queensware, &c., which he flatters himself he can sell as chesp as any other house in the county. Persons desizing any thing in his line, will do well to call on him.

Holme & Brother. THIS enterprising firm, located on Second Street, St. Joseph, Mo., are now prepared to furnish the public with anything in the line of Saddles, Harness, Leather, &c., cheaper than any other house in Northwest Missouri. Persons going to St. Joseph, desiring anything in their line, cannot do better than give them a call.

Personal. MR. WM. ZOOK, who has been a resident of this county for about twentythree years, has removed to St. Joseph. and will immediately assume the Presidency of the First National Bank of St. Joseph, for which position not a more worthy mun could have been selected. While a resident of this county, Mr. ZOOK was engaged, most of his time, in the mercantile business, which he pursued with good success.

County Court. next to pass judgement against the years' subscription; paid it, and also louis on the "old forfeited list," upon which the taxes still remain unpaid, and to transact such other business as anay come before it. all concerned, that Mr. Jas. A. Wals-WORTH, Asst. Assessor for the 7th District of Missouri, will be in this city from the 20th to the 30th of September, and all persons liable to assessment, who have failed to report, can do so without having the penalty added to their reports. All persons failing to report, will certainly be assessed according to the best information the Assessor can obtain, with the penalty assessed on said assessment.

The Roads. Tue roads of our county are in a very bad condition; in fact, some important ones are almost impassable. This should not be. It compels immigration and travel to seek other routes and conveyances. Our road overseers should go to work at once and put their roads in passable condition, at least. The men are home from the army now, and there can be no excuse on account of the scarcity of hands.

Our town is deeply interested in the State road leading to Iowa Point. It State road leading to Iowa Point. It is our chief dependence for wood, and as the season is now at hand when we should be procuring our supplies for the winter, no time should be lost in putting it in good condition. The ravine near Russets is in a very dangerous fix. A new bridge is very much needed. We call upon our County Court, which meets next Monday, to take the matter in hand, as it is a matter of too great importance to admit of much delay. Our citisens should do something to aid in this matter. A liberal contribution now will save many dollars after a while. Not less than three thousand cords for wood are brought into town by the town by the per cord. Without this town by the town by the per cord. Without this town town by the per cord. J. UTT, Secretary. "THINE TO THE END."

BY FA.. NIN STEVENS BRUCE.

Thine to the end"-thine only, best beloved, While these poor lips have power to form thy name:

Thine in temptation—in all bitter sorrows—
Thine—if Pate hold it for thee—even in shame:
Pleading with Heaven for deepness of affection,
For patience saintlier than the sacred dove,
For every good of heart and grace of spirit,
To theer, and bless, and comfort him I love.
"Thine to the end!"

"Thine to the end!" The clouds which gloon May screen a tempest in each murky fold; and round about thy feet-toil-numbed and weary Life's waves may dash relentless, flerce and colds

They cannot shill the arder of devotion
Which burns for thee within this constant want -come woe -come direst desolation

Here, here, at last, thoul't never lack a rest. "Thine to the end!" 'Thine to the end !" When Death's chill hands are loosing The slender threads which bind thy soul to clay; When backward float earth's dreams and expec-

When forward glimmers bright the Eternal day; When human strength melts into human weakness,

And longs—yet fears, and hopes—to fear again This voice shall southe, with tenderest consolation,
These fingers calm thy unquietness and pain.
"Thine to the end!"

'Thine to the end!"-and never any other's. Then, trust me now, and trust me ever more And give me of thy love's most precious trensure A weightier weight than c'er thou gav'st before. So shall I gain all will to war with fortune; So shall thou bravely bear all wordly smarts; So shall we both, in face of each affliction, Claspone sweet comfort to our wayworn hearts. "Thine to the end !"
